Leesburg United Methodist Church

LUMC4Life-Connecting downtown & all around!

Some years ago, I received a letter from a church member addressing concerns about the irrelevance of the Bible for modern times. The letter sought to make a case for "rewriting the New Testament" to reflect modern thought and understanding. In this way, the Church would be able to give Jesus (and Paul) a 21st Century voice that would speak to people today, especially the young.

The Church is tempted in every age to "reinvent" the gospel "for our time" or to embrace and accommodate the zeitgeist, as happened in Nazi Germany in the 1930's and 1940's. The siren song of our culture would have us change the Gospel according to our image and like-ness – in direct contrast to the call of Christ for us to come and be changed by the Gospel, and to allow our lives to be formed into his image. However, at the same time, we must find ways to contextualize the message of the Gospel.

Our Book of Discipline of the United Methodist Church reminds us that the Church stands "continually in need of doctrinal reinvigoration for the sake of authentic renewal, fruitful evangelism, and ecumenical dialogue" (2012 edition; p. 63). At first glance, some might see resisting the temptation to reformulate the Gospel according to our time as contradictory to the "continual" need for doctrinal reinvigoration. Actually, the converse is true. Faithful proclamation of the Gospel requires that the message of the Cross be continually re-contextualized for our time and culture in order to make it communicable and comprehensible.

In order to do this with integrity and authenticity, we who call ourselves United Methodist are reminded that "the recovery and updating of our distinctive doctrinal heritage... is essential;" and that "This task calls for the repossession of our traditions as well as the promotion of theological inquiry... in order to claim our legacy and to shape that legacy for the Church we aspire to be" (ibid, p.63).

The above quotes come as preface to "The Articles of Religion of the Methodist Church", and "The Confession of Faith of the Evangelical United Brethren Church", parts of our United Methodist Doctrinal Standards. These statements reflect the general agreement among United Methodists concerning the foundational and enduring doctrines of the Christian faith. Theologian, Thomas Oden, tells us, "Serious study of the Articles will deepen theological vision, enlarge catholic (universal) Christian sympathy, sere to resist faddism and excess in theology, and put modern worshipers vitally in touch with the doctrinal cohesion of the ancient Christian, Protestant, and Wesleyan traditions" (Doctrinal Standards in the Wesleyan Tradition, Oden, p. 129).

With these words to inspire and lead, I invite you to join me this August in a process of beginning to re-discover our doctrinal heritage, that we may re-invigorate our faith, and infuse our discipleship with re-newed re-levance. I have long remembered the words of warning from our founder, the Reverend John Wesley, which I first read in seminary: "I am not afraid that the people called Methodists should ever cease to exist either in Europe or America. But I am afraid, lest they should only exist as a dead sect, having the form of religion without the power. And this will undoubtedly be the case, unless they hold fast both the doctrine, spirit, and discipline with which they first set out." (The Works of John Wesley, Vol. 13, p. 259) May this never be true of me, nor because of me, I pray.

See you next Sunday!

Pastor Jim

ADULT DISCIPLESHIP

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;

Then took the other, as just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim
Because it was grassy and wanted
wear,
Though as for that the passing there
Had worn them really about the same,

And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to
way
I doubted if I should ever come back.

I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I,
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.
The Road Not Taken,
Robert Frost,

Have you ever felt that there was something you wanted, something you were missing, something you needed to do but did not know how? Have you ever had a sense that there ought to be more to being a member of the church than just attending worship, making a pledge, and sitting on a committee?

If so, then you have experienced a "divine discontent." Whatever our religious background may be, most of us long for something more. We catch fleeting hints of a spiritual hunger for a deeper relationship with God. We know why the psalmist wrote: As a deer longs for flowing streams, so my soul longs for you, O God. (Psalm 42: 1)

Wherever we are along the journey of faith, we are pestered by the realization that church should not just be where we go, but who we are. Wherever the path of our lives is leading, when we remember Jesus said, "Follow me!" to the first disciples, we feel an inner tug to rise up and follow him too.

But how do we do that?

Participate in a Disciple's Path group this Fall!

The English for Speakers of Other Languages (ESL) program is looking for volunteers to be teachers, assistant teachers, a team leader to provide support to the teachers, and a co-coordinator to design flyers, do publicity and miscellaneous administrative functions. No experience is necessary; all teaching materials are provided. The classes are offered on Tuesday and Thursday evenings for 10 weeks from 7:00 to 9:00 at the church. Teachers and team leaders volunteer for 1 evening a week.

Volunteer Orientation for the Fall Session will be on Sunday, August 18, from 3:00 to 5:00 at the church. Classes begin Tuesday, September 17 and end on Thursday, November 21; our end-of-session Potluck Dinner will be on Tuesday, November 26.

The church's ESL program, in its 8th year, has helped over 500 students learn to communicate better in the English language. Please join us and be a part of this rewarding program.

Dear LUMC Friends -

God is still working mightily in the Pacific Islands! In the past 3 years, not only has the number of student-led discipleship groups increased in Papua New Guinea (from 8 to 45 at the end of 2011), but our ministry in Fiji has done the same (from very few to 35 at the end of 2011).

Dan is especially encouraged about our UPNG (Papua new Guinea) students taking the initiative with other UPNG students. Campus Crusade for Christ students at UPNG were asked by students with another group (at UPNG) to train them in how to share their faith and follow-up new believers. It was a great opportunity for their students to step out and share what they have learned with their peers. After the 2-day training, both groups went sharing their faith on campus... and they all saw 96 students trust Christ as their Saviour! And now those students from the other group will also be able to apply what they learned as they begin to follow-up and disciple those new believers!

On a trip to PNG/Australia, Dan will be leading university students in a village ministry project in Papua New Guinea. The 15 or so students invited to come on the trip all lead their own Bible study groups on campus and are able to train people in the church, he will cover the basics of sharing their faith and how to follow up new believers with basic Bible truths that will help them start their own journey of faith. Dan will head to Australia to speak to the Australian Student Life Conference about partnering with the Mills in PNG. It is a great opportunity to exchange ministry ideas and skills.

Both of us will be flying to the US on a shorter than usual visit to see some of our ministry partners. We will split 6 weeks between Portland, Iowa and Pittsburgh. We will even be able to reconnect with family on this trip.

Please follow our work online at www.gcx.org/mills

SPY 2013: Be Awesome

In July, LUMC sent 48 youth to Christiansburg for a week of Mission! The youth were divided into 5 work teams, with each team having 2 adults to supervise and provide guidance. There were 15 adults throughout the week, some stayed the entire week, while others rotated through.

On Sunday, we hiked up to Cascades waterfall. Upon reaching the top and seeing the beautiful sight, thunder began to roll and everyone walked back down the 40 minute hike in pouring rain. This will be a fun story to tell...someday. After getting cleaned up, we went to Pembroke UMC for dinner. Then, off to visit the homes we would work on all week.

The Red Team, led by Steve Murray and Kathi Pierce worked on a home in Christiansburg, near Radford. They tore down an unsafe deck and built a new one from the ground up, even adding a roof!

The Blue Team, led by Derek Hardman and Laura van Leliveld worked on a home on the other side of Christiansburg. Their task was also to tear down a poorly constructed porch and build a new one. They worked hard and accomplished their job quickly.

The Yellow Team, led by Brad Skillman and Valerie Chandler/Leigh Ann Macklin had fun playing with water the first day as they power washed two decks. Then, they spent two days staining lattice and one deck. They got to spend the final day tearing out damaged boards from the other deck and laying new ones.

The Green Team led by Pam Bentley and George Herrmann got to move around a lot of furniture as they removed old carpeting and laid down new flooring throughout a small home. Making very precise cuts for the flooring was a challenge, but they got it done!

The Purple Team led by Michelle Champ, Adam Stonerook and Carl Snyder/Dwight Stonerook had the dirty job! They spent three grueling days digging eleven holes to 28" in clay and rock. This was in preparation for a wheelchair ramp that another team will go and build.

Each evening, the SPY staff led worship and gave inspirational talks to help our youth grow in their faith. Throughout the course of the week, our youth deepened their friendships with one another and made some new friends as well.

STEPHEN MINISTRY

Message of a Care Receiver

Before I reached out to Stephen Ministry, I was tired physically, emotionally, and spiritually. I advised many people, professionally and personally. I was accustomed to supporting and caring for others but not to receiving support myself. I never felt that I had anyone I could talk to. I didn't think they would understand, and I didn't want anyone to judge me.

I was dealing with loneliness, anger, envy, jealousy, struggles with forgiveness, concerns at work, and feelings of being unproductive. All this, along with everything that others brought to me, was taking a toll on me. Although I was praying, nothing seemed to be getting better.

During one of my Bible study classes, I fell completely apart. I had a heavy issue over my head, and I wanted to give up. I wrote in my journal, "today I feel tired, out of steam." I just want to run away and not deal with anyone's issues. I knew I had to move on, let go, and let God provide guidance, but I was getting bombarded with others' life issues. I was thinking, I can't take any more!

Then, after class, a classmate who is a Stephen leader told me about Stephen Ministry. She suggested that I asked for a Stephen Minister so that I would have someone to talk to. I decided to give it a try.

When I had my first meeting with XXXX, my assigned Stephen Minister, I really didn't know what to expect. I didn't know how much I should open up. I had made up my mind to tell her only bits and pieces. We didn't know each other, so I didn't feel it necessary to spill my guts. But who was I to think that I was in control?

My Stephen Minister was very transparent, and she made me feel comfortable enough to talk to. So during our initial meetings, I told her everything about how I had been feeling. I told her that I was at a breaking point during our first meeting -- that, I wanted to run away and leave everything behind rather than deal with it.

I also talked with her about other issues that related to my family. During our next meeting, we talked about what love really means. She had me concentrate on 1 Corinthians 13, and today I continue to focus on this scripture and many others. The breakthrough's began -- hallelujah!

After three months of receiving care, I decided that I was out of crisis mode and no longer needed care from my Stephen Minister. Honestly, I had been past the worst of it for a few weeks, but I felt I would be losing something by ending this relationship. But God told me, I will never leave you or forsake you. I knew it was time to let go. I needed to free her up for the next person.

Reaching out to a Stephen Minister had been a blessing. Thank you, XXXXX. Thank you for the Stephen leaders, and above all thank you, God!

Financial Peace University—Have you heard about it?

This amazing 9 week class is changing peoples' lives in dramatic ways!

Members of our congregation, members of other churches, and people who have not stepped inside a faith community in years have all taken part in this course. It teaches you to talk about money, and manage today's money addressing past debts and future plans. It is a safe place to talk about your struggles, your dreams, and all the issues in between. If you are married or in a significant relationship it would be great for you to come together – but it is not required. You will be able to share what you learn!

The course is $100 for new members, and is free for returning members. You can sign up directly on the church website, or on Dave Ramsey's website at www.daveramsey.com/fpu. Returning members who have previously taken the 13 week class and would like to order new materials should contact Chris Stevens for discounted pricing and ordering information.

New classes are forming now!

Tuesday mornings
Friday evenings

9:15 – 11:00 am
6:30 – 8:30 pm

Sept. 10 – Nov. 5
Sept. 13 – Nov. 8

Please pray for this ministry, and how you can support someone who would like to take the course. Could you provide transportation for children's activities, walk the dog, or just come to class to offer encouragement?

Questions? Please email one of us, or leave a message at the church office. We hope you will join us for this life-changing class!
